[Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.]

Independence, Ia., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—The first of the series of joint debates between Gen. Sherman and L. G. Kinne, the Democratic candidate to have since 1859 typical issues with his opponent, opened here this afternoon. A great political campaign has been on in this county for two weeks, through which Gen. Sherman has been making speeches and Democratic stock has gone down to zero. Kinne's challenge to Gen. Sherman to meet him in joint debate was promptly accepted, and the Democrats have since been using everybody to work and pay their fares "down the other track." The "coming" Democratic vote of this afternoon, and neither party had anything like a monopoly of the excursion trains. Gen. Sherman, the leader of Democratic thought, turned out to be but of a very small party, turned up as an auditor in the afternoon and tried to run a little with short of his vote in the evening. The Sherman delegation have announced with much glee that Kinne is the strongest orator of the Democratic party, and that Sherman has "dropped" to it, but the most of the interest after Kinne's arrival was that shown in the evening meeting of the afternoon. In accordance with this interest, the Republicans succeeded in the excitement policy of giving Congressman Sherman against Kinne this evening, much to the latter's disgust.

Crowds of folks who are perhaps always late when Kinne is running for, or Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, Auditor, Secretary of State, Supreme Judge, Congressman, Governor, Senator and Vice President of the United States Senator to [illegible], Regents and Trustees of Universities, Presidents of Agricultural Colleges, Boards of Railroad Commissioners, Boards of Equalization, Boards of Railroad Assessors, Boards of Pilot Commissioners, Boards of Health, Boards of Public Works, Boards of Police, Boards of Fire Commissioners, Boards of Public Parks, Boards of Public Buildings, Boards of Public Improvements, Boards of Public Charities, Boards of Public Education, Boards of Public Libraries, Boards of Public Museums, Boards of Public Galleries, Boards of Public Theatres, Boards of Public Concerts, Boards of Public Balls, Boards of Public Receptions, Boards of Public Dinners, Boards of Public Suppers, Boards of Public Breakfasts, Boards of Public Lunches, Boards of Public Teas, Boards of Public Coffees, Boards of Public Chocolates, Boards of Public Cocoas, Boards of Public Milks, Boards of Public Creams, Boards of Public Butters, Boards of Public Cheeses, Boards of Public Breads, Boards of Public Cakes, Boards of Public Pies, Boards of Public Puddings, Boards of Public Jellies, Boards of Public Preserves, Boards of Public Pickles, Boards of Public Sauces, Boards of Public Spices, Boards of Public Herbs, Boards of Public Roots, Boards of Public Barks, Boards of Public Woods, Boards of Public Stones, Boards of Public Metals, Boards of Public Minerals, Boards of Public Gems, Boards of Public Jewels, Boards of Public Ornaments, Boards of Public Decorations, Boards of Public Furniture, Boards of Public Carpets, Boards of Public Curtains, Boards of Public Draperies, Boards of Public Upholstery, Boards of Public Bedding, Boards of Public Linens, Boards of Public Cottons, Boards of Public Woolens, Boards of Public Silks, Boards of Public Satins, Boards of Public Velvets, Boards of Public Laces, Boards of Public Embroideries, Boards of Public Needlework, Boards of Public Knitting, Boards of Public Crochet, Boards of Public Tatting, Boards of Public Macramé, Boards of Public Netting, Boards of Public Weaving, Boards of Public Spinning, Boards of Public Carding, Boards of Public Combing, Boards of Public Dyeing, Boards of Public Bleaching, Boards of Public Printing, Boards of Public Engraving, Boards of Public Lithography, Boards of Public Photography, Boards of Public Painting, Boards of Public Sculpture, Boards of Public Architecture, Boards of Public Engineering, Boards of Public Surveying, Boards of Public Mapping, Boards of Public Drafting, Boards of Public Designing, Boards of Public Modeling, Boards of Public Casting, Boards of Public Forging, Boards of Public Welding, Boards of Public Soldering, Boards of Public Brazing, Boards of Public Tinning, Boards of Public Galvanizing, Boards of Public Plating, Boards of Public Gilding, Boards of Public Silvering, Boards of Public Nickeling, Boards of Public Coppering, Boards of Public Zinking, Boards of Public Leading

VESSEL INSPECTION.

[Special to The Chicago Tribune.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—The engineering corps of the Board of Supervising Inspectors of Steam Vessels in New York will immediately begin their periodical examination of the boilers of steamers registered for the inspection of steam vessels. There are many persons familiar with the service who are satisfied that the existing system is inadequate to the discharge of the duties imposed upon it by law. The Supervising Inspectors-General of Steam Vessels has given a New York boiler maker the contract for furnishing the Government with a steamer to be used in the service of the Treasury Department. The vessel will be constructed at the yard of the boiler maker, and will be used in the service of the Revenue Marine. The contract is said to be a very profitable one, and it is understood that the boiler maker who secured it has been in the habit of furnishing supplies to the Government at a very low figure, and thereby secured the contract. The vessel will be constructed in accordance with the specifications prepared by the Treasury Department, and will be subjected to the usual inspection by officers of the Revenue Marine Service. It is said that the boiler maker who secured the contract

THE RIVERDALE DISASTER.

New York, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Nearly if not quite all of the persons who were reported to be under or among the wreck of the Riverdale excursion were heard from yesterday, and no more bodies have been brought to have been killed or injured in the Riverdale disaster were not on the list of the dead. Ex-Inspector Robert A. Thompson, whose friends were practically assembled Tuesday with the report that he was among the missing, came to the city from the Riverdale Assembly Rooms at Englewood yesterday in good health and spirits. He went to Englewood Tuesday afternoon on the Cleveland, in the Riverdale way, with the habit of stopping at that place. Dr. D. S. Harris, Superintendent of the Bellevue, who also was reported as missing, went to Long Dock by rail, and was not therefore a passenger on the boat. Frank Gordon, of Long Island, whose brother was reported dead, was not a passenger on the boat. Capt. Eat and E. E. Carter, of Yonkers, and Miss Ann E. Carter and E. C. Smith, of Long Island, arrived home safely on the Riverdale, to the Riverdale way

The Awful Work of the Javanese Volcanic Eruption Still in Progress.

Fifty Miles Square of Fertile Country Consumed in the Fire.

An Entire Range of Mountains Also Covered by the Raging Waters.

Villages After Villages and Island After Island Swept from Human Ken.

The Additional Loss of Life Will Probably Reach at Least Twenty Thousand.

Making a Total of Seventy-five Thousand Victims Since the Eruption Began.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—[Special Cable.]—Further particulars of the great volcanic eruption in Java, which have just reached London from Batavia, show that the disaster was even more widespread and more disastrous than reported in yesterday's advices. All hope, however, for anything like accurate information as to the number of persons killed must be abandoned, for the reason that the eruption of Krakatoa, and the tidal wave which followed it, have rendered communication with the interior impossible. Even the number of villages destroyed cannot be ascertained, as the whole of the western portion of Java, which has been the principal sufferer, is entirely cut off from the rest of the world, and the few towns and villages that remain are crowded with refugees from the destroyed districts. Batavia, Anjer, Merak, and Tjilletjap, the principal towns of the district, have suffered severely, and the latter place was entirely destroyed.

A correspondent who has left the island of Krakatoa, Sebesi, Sebuku, and a few other small islands in the neighborhood, and who has visited the scene of the disaster, says that the whole of the island, as well as the greater portion of Java and Sumatra, was covered with a thick layer of ashes, which in some places is as much as 100 feet deep. Even at Batavia, which is 100 miles from the scene of the eruption, the ashes fell to the depth of several inches, and the darkness was so great that it was impossible to see the hand before the face. Many of the houses in the city have been destroyed by the falling ashes, and the roofs of many others have fallen in under the weight of the deposit. The inhabitants of Batavia, who have been panic-stricken by the terrible occurrences which have taken place, are flocking to the interior as fast as they can get away. Business is entirely suspended, and the city presents a most desolate appearance.

The island of Java, the scene of the worst of the disturbances, is now completely isolated from the rest of the world, and it is impossible to obtain any information as to the number of persons who have been killed. The latest advices from Batavia state that the whole of the western portion of the island is covered with a thick layer of ashes, and that the inhabitants are flying in all directions. The scene of the disturbances is described as being terrible in the extreme. Whole districts have been destroyed, and the bodies of the victims are lying in the streets in such numbers that it is impossible to bury them. John C. Washington, of Kentucky, and S. Price, of Tennessee, arrive at the Sherman.

The Rev. Dr. Campbell, Moderator of the Church of Scotland, Toronto, arrived yesterday and is stopping at the Grand Pacific.

Five stockholders against the Northwestern Elevating Company and a few against various other parties were summoned to Justice Evans yesterday to Sept. 7.

Mr. Robert J. Fisher, of Monmouth Street, Newton, right-of-way agent for the Wabash Railroad, who was shot in the leg on Monday night by a burglar whom he was trying to arrest, is reported as resting very well.

Edward Clark, a bookbinder, whose home is at No. 20 Augusta street, fell down stairs at No. 100 North Jefferson and fractured his left leg. He was removed to the County Hospital.

Peter Gleicha, a tailor, who resided without visible means in the rear of 1044 West Lake street, was arrested yesterday morning upon the affidavit of Joseph Kos, who charged him with stealing from him $60.

The "San Francisco Club," composed of the members of the various commercial bodies of Eastern Cities who visited San Francisco last month, met at the Grand Pacific on their way home.

The City Collector has furnished the police with complete lists of all those who have taken out licenses, with their addresses and occupations, and the department agrees on the part of the police to assist the Collector's Assistants.

The widow of a non-commissioned officer of U. S. Grant's command in the Mexican war, who is allowing $8 a month on account of her husband's services, has applied for a pension as the widow of a private soldier.

A meeting of the members and committees of Chicago will be held at the Commercial Exchange, this day at 4 o'clock p. m., to receive the report of the Chicago Delegates to the Interstate Freight Bureau.

The management regarding the observance of Sunday continues. Six of Bowen, Stuart & Co.'s employés were arrested yesterday and asked if the directors were over there. Upon the statement by the employés in question that they were there, and were working with their consent, the officers left them alone. Two of Bowen, Stuart & Co.'s employés were arrested, and will appear in court this morning. Two of the Chicago Lumber Company's employés were also arrested.

The Comet's part in the case of Thomas Hamilton, who was arrested a week before on a charge of stealing a bicycle, and released, owing to the fact that the complainant failed to appear, was published in full in the Tribune of Aug. 23. The statement that the complainant was Hamilton's employer was an error.

The chandelier of Charles P. Martin, No. 70 Monroe street, representing a value of $1,000, consisting of bronze dolls and statuettes, and a safe, were stolen by burglars Tuesday night. The property was recovered yesterday afternoon by Detectives Fitzpatrick and Bonfield.

Mr. Hoke, of Louisville, the champion salesman of Wagner Palace Car Company, is in the city looking up contracts, and says that the Exhibition has had much effect upon the business of the Pullman Company, which is now driving over 500 cars.

The body of an unknown man was found in the creek at Thirty-seventh street, and Halsted, yesterday morning, by Officer Bonfield, who took charge of it. It was a German, about 40 years old, with dark hair, brown mustache, and wearing a dark suit of clothes. The body was taken to the Morgue.

Mrs. George, proprietress of a boarding-house frequented by railroad men, complained yesterday to Officer Bonfield, of the Harrison-street Station, that one of her boarders had stolen a valise containing clothing, etc., belonging to a fellow-boarder. The valise was found in the possession of the thief, who, upon being searched, was found to have in his pocket a pawn-ticket for the valise. He was locked up.

A valise supposed to contain some dynamite was found yesterday by the Supervisor's force in Dearborn Park, near the corner of Monroe street. The valise was taken to the Central Station, where it was opened by Officer Bonfield, who found that it contained a number of tools, but no explosives. The valise was claimed by a man who said that it belonged to him, and that he had left it in the park while he went to get a drink. He was allowed to take it away.
